

Stalled Armistice Talks May Be Revived Sunday

Five Arrested; Bank Shortage Over A Million

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa.—(AP)—The two National banks in New Kensington are short over a million dollars today as the FBI arrested a fifth employee on embezzling charges that have shocked this industrial community.

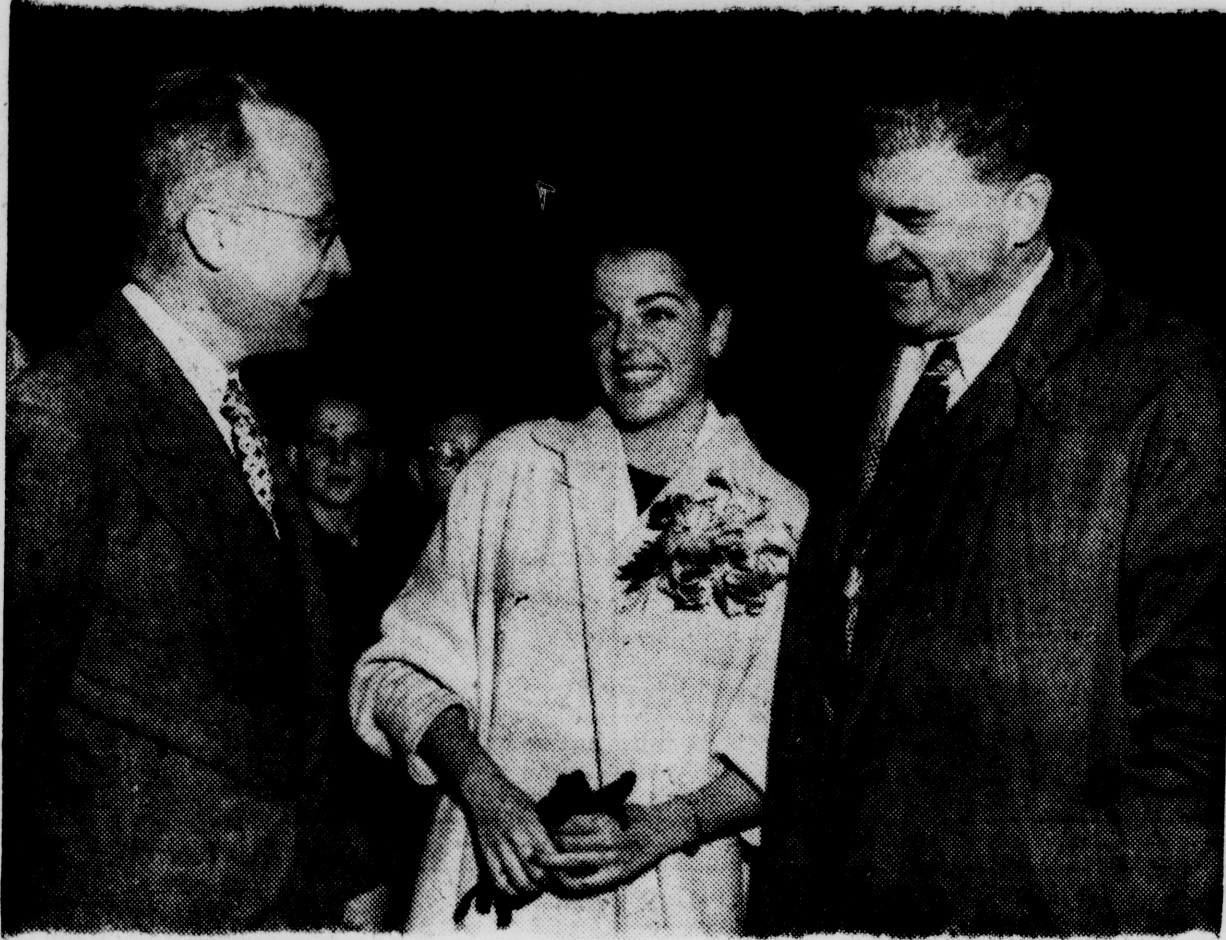

The FBI seized George Rogers Shirella, 53, yesterday, the slight, greying man worked his way up from messenger boy to assistant cashier of New Kensington's First National Bank. FBI Agent Fred Hallford said Shirella admitted misapplication of $12,594.

Shirella is the fourth National employe arrested since last Jan. 11 the fifth in the town to be accused of embezzling Federal bank funds.

The arrest brought the total to 10 the FBI has made in the western Pennsylvania-West Virginia area in little more than a year.

The government is also investigating a $1,300,000 shortage at the First National Bank in Cecil, Pa.

Hallford said the total shortage throughout the area will pass $3,000,000.

Canada Thrills Royal Tourists

TORONTO—(AP)—Sources close to the royal couple said today Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh could hardly believe the enthusiasm of Canada's welcome, were thrilled by it and never had seen anything like it.

Veteran reporters described the welcome for the heiress presumptive to the British throne as "fantastic" and a Canadian professor of psychology called it "mass hysteria."

More than 500,000 persons turned out in this city of 700,000 to cheer Elizabeth as she and her consort moved slowly through the jammed streets.

Earlier more than 200,000 persons had swarmed around the couple, waving British flags, shouting and laughing as they passed through small cities between Ottawa and Toronto.

Officials estimated more than 1,200,000 of Canada's 13,500,000 people have hailed the princess during the first four days of her projected 30-day tour of the Dominion.

Warm For Football

(By The Associated Press)

A pleasant day for football fans—but a little hot for players in some areas—was today's weather outlook for most of the country. Generally fair weather was reported in prospect for the bulk of the nation.

Legislators Favor New State Ferry Between Frankfort and Menominee

FRANKFORT, Mich.—(AP)—Prospects of the state operating a car-ferry service between Frankfort and Menominee were somewhat brighter today, although some cold water was tossed on the proposal here yesterday.

Eighty citizens from the two cities appeared before a legislative committee studying the proposal, and afterwards two legislators told reporters they expected the committee probably would recommend the service.

Ships Unsuitable

The members privately forecasting favorable committee action were Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) and State Senator Joseph A. Cloon (R-Wakefield).

While no official committee action was taken on the proposal, the legislators decided to ask the state highway department to make a survey to determine how much the service would be used.

G. M. Foster, a highway department engineer who recently inspected five old vessels for possible use on the route, was the cold water.

Foster said that he found the ships, owned by the Detroit &

Cleveland Navigation Co., unsuitable. He said it would cost $1,500,000 to $3,000,000 to recondition them and that another $1,000,000 might be necessary for new power plants.

In addition, Foster said, both Frankfort and Menominee might have to spend $1,000,000 each on docking facilities before the service could start.

Seen As Good Investment

F. G. Maxwell, traffic manager of the Ann Arbor railroad, said the railroad would allow the state to use its docks temporarily if the state wanted to make some trials over the proposed route.

The railroad now operates ferries plying between the two ports, but confines cargo primarily to railroad cars. It does, however, transport passenger automobiles on the craft.

Chamber of commerce and city officials of the two cities said that increased tourist and other business would make the state investment in its own ferry system worthwhile.

Wallace's 1944 Trip To China Taken Up In Senate Red Quiz

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate internal security subcommittee's probe for any subversive influences on U. S. policies in the Far East will swing back next week to Henry A. Wallace's 1944 mission to China.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) told reporters today the subcommittee has scheduled an open hearing for next Wednesday to take testimony from the former vice president and from Joseph Alsop, a newspaper columnist.

Both Wallace and Alsop have asked to be heard in answer to the sworn charge of ex-Communist Louis Budenz that Wallace's cable recommendations from China were in accord with the Communist line of the time. Wallace, denying this, said the proposals he made to the late President Roosevelt were "the opposite of pro-Communist" and sprang from a desire to help Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese nationalist leader.

Alsop, who was on the staff of Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault at the time, wrote McCarran that he had a part in certain events in China "which prove that Budenz has lied to your committee."

Truman's Press Gag Condemned

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Directors of the Michigan Press Association today announced the adoption of a policy statement denouncing President Truman's order permitting federal agency heads to suppress information.

The statement said that Freedom of the Press, "one of the citizen's cherished constitutional rights, has been restricted by the order."

The directors said that under the order "even members of congress are barred from getting information except as the president may permit."

"It is our judgment," the statement continued, "that this exercise of authority is a step to totalitarian control by government x x x."

The statement urged Michigan newspapers to "acquaint their readers about this encroachment of the citizen's right to freedom of information," commended Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Moody (D-Mich.) for opposing the order and urged Michigan congressmen to "support legislation to repeal the executive order."

Michigan Runs Sixth In Duck Stamp Sales

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Michigan ranked sixth in the nation in the sale of duck stamps during the fiscal year ended June 30, post office figures show.

The postal department said Friday that 38,425 of the stamps, costing $2 each, were sold in Michigan. California led the list with 150,661 stamps sold.

Red Complaint Of Air Strafing Is Investigated

Liaison Group Meets In Dusty Village

MUNSAN, Korea—(AP)—Liaison officers will meet again Sunday in dusty little Panmunjom in another effort to get the stalled Korean armistice talks rolling again.

The meeting is scheduled for 10 a. m. (8 p. m. Saturday EST). Negotiations were interrupted Saturday by a Red complaint that three United Nations warplanes strafed the fringe of the Kaesong neutrality zone Friday, killing a 12-year-old boy and wounding his two-year-old brother. U. N. liaison officers investigated.

Boys Hit By Bullets

The Reds and U. N. Allies were nearing agreement on administrative differences—holding up resumption of full-dress armistice talks when the Communists protested by telephone Friday night that three Allied planes had strafed the edge of the cease-fire neutral zone.

A 15-year-old Korean boy told U. N. investigators Saturday that bullets from strafing Allied warplanes struck his two younger brothers while they were fishing on Friday.

AP correspondent Robert B. Tuckman, who accompanied the U. N. liaison officers in their investigation of the Red complaint, said "correspondents at Panmunjom generally felt the Communists had presented enough tangible evidence to back up their case—although there still were enough unknown factors to make a clear-cut opinion impossible."

No Formal Protest

A U. N. spokesman said the evidence was being studied and evaluated.

Allied officers said the Reds had not lodged a formal protest but had asked for an official investigation.

From Panmunjom the investigators drove through Kaesong to a 700-foot hill about three miles northwest of the city.

With newsmen and photographers of both sides they climbed by foot to the summit and inspected fortifications which the Reds said were sprayed by more than 140 machinegun bullets from United Nations planes.

At the foot of the hill Air Force Col. Don Darrow questioned a Korean woman and a 15-year-old boy. Both said they saw three planes and heard shooting about

Governor To Call Special Session On Deer Rifle Ban

LANSING—(AP)—The state legislature today awaited Governor Williams' call to a special session to settle the raging dispute over the use of deer rifles in Southern Michigan.

The governor said yesterday he would call the session and would recommend that deer rifles be banned in the southern counties.

He did not set the date of the session but said it would be after next week and before the Nov. 15 opening of the deer season.

Farmers bitterly protested the July decision of the conservation commission to lift the rifle ban in southern counties. They began closing their lands to all hunting to force the issue.

Copper Country Joins In Efforts To Curb Shore Line Erosion

HOUGHTON, Mich.—(AP)—Michigan's Copper country is joining demands for federal action of some kind in alleviating shoreline erosion damage.

The next of a series of public meetings will be held at Hancock Monday night.

A local committee estimated here yesterday that damage due to high water and winds in Houghton and Keweenaw counties approximated $50,000, but said much more damage would be caused if lake levels are permitted to continue rising.

Damage was reported on Inland Lakes as well as Lake Superior.

Party Bolters New Democrat Threat In Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Preliminary maneuvers in the 1952 battle for the presidency are shaping up all over at state levels.

At Austin, Texas a liberal faction of Texas usually-split Democratic party gathered at a political breakfast today to hear a speech by secretary of agriculture Brannan.

The group, calling themselves "Volunteer Democrats," was reported deeply concerned over the renewed threat of a "States' Rights Democrat" uprising like that which nominated its own ticket in 1948.

Break Hinted

At Oklahoma City yesterday, Gov. Johnston Murray said he would listen to the arguments of such southern states' righters who are talking about a break with the present national administration.

But Murray declined to associate himself either with the States' Rights group or the Truman administration for next year's national convention. He said he thought that of all the southern states only Arkansas and

Egypt Invited To Join Four Powers In New Middle East Defense

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt—(AP)—The United States, Britain, France and Turkey invited Egypt today to join them as a full partner in a new Middle East defense command.

Foreign Minister Mohammed Salah El Din Pasha, whose government this week denounced its defense alliance with Britain and is threatening to throw 10,000 British troops out of the Suez canal area, received the proposal.

Details Not Revealed

Ambassadors of the four powers presented the plan to him at the summer capital in Alexandria just four days after Egypt moved to cancel its treaties with Britain.

Salah El Din told newsmen his acceptance of the proposals amounted to "nothing more than acknowledgement of receipt" under customary diplomatic procedure.

The four ambassadors would give no details of the proposals. Salah El Din also declined to disclose the contents.

(In London, a foreign office spokesman said Britain had also submitted a separate proposal on the Sudan to Egypt. The spokesman declined to reveal its contents.)

Salah El Din added he told the British envoy these proposals will not affect Egypt's decision to force British troops out of the Suez Canal area and take over sole control of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Britain and Egypt have been in trying without success since 1946 to agree on revision of the Anglo-Egyptian 20-year treaty of alliance signed in 1936.

Troops Stay On Suez

Egypt insisted that British troops get off her soil, from which they guard the Suez Canal, and also turn over to her sole control of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, which they rule jointly under an 1899 agreement.

Britain refused these conditions.

(British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison said last night Britain would maintain its rights under the Anglo-Egyptian treaty "until some new agreed arrangement comes along to be substituted for it.")

(The Middle East defense command proposed today apparently is the "new agreed arrangement" he had in mind.)

(He said Britain will keep her troops along the Suez and won't attack the Egyptians, but if the British are attacked "then our people will defend themselves and the government will support them in doing so.")

New Gains Gouged Out By Allies In Bitter Korea War

By JOHN RANDOLPH

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(AP)—United Nations infantry supported by tanks and artillery gouged out new gains on the western and central Korean fronts today as fighting flared with renewed savagery across Korea.

The U. S. 24th Division and two South Korean divisions gained up to nearly two miles along a 22-mile front in the center.

Northern Army Smashed

Allied artillery pounded a day-long rain of high explosives on Chinese Communist positions above Yonchon in the west. U. S.

First Cavalry troops moved unopposed onto a hill forming the eastern flank of a vital ridgeline scarred by four days of fighting.

One battalion of the cavalry was badly cut up Friday.

A captured Red officer on the eastern front said the North Korean army—the one that started the war 21 months ago—now was "practically nonexistent."

American and French troops on Heartbreak ridge in eastern Korea scorched the last Reds out of their suicide bunkers on the slopes of the ridgeline's northernmost peak. The peak, Hill 851, was captured Friday. Allied officers said the mopping up action was among the bitterest fights of the war.

Ridge Not Secured

The captured North Korean officer credited the shattering artillery barrages with decimating the North Korean army.

Another captured Red officer said his division of 4,000 men had suffered 2,000 casualties in the month-old battle of Heartbreak ridge and had been sent only 500 replacements.

Most of Heartbreak was in United Nations hands, but Reds threw U. N. troops off one ridge Friday. An Eighth Army briefing officer said the ridge could not yet be called completely secured.

Tanks supporting infantry on the slopes of the hills Friday thrust up a valley west of Heartbreak. They ran into Red bazookas and anti-tank guns and had to turn back.

Legion Rolling Into Miami, Fla.

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Blue-capped American Legionnaires from all parts of the nation rolled into Miami in increasing numbers today for the organization's 33rd annual convention.

Pre-convention activities brought thousands to this city in advance of the formal opening Monday morning.

Registration headquarters said another 19 departmental delegations checked in yesterday, with a total strength of 1,826 delegates and alternates.

Congress Breaks All Peace-Time Records In Appropriations

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The present Congress has broken the peace-time record for the amount of money appropriated and still has four big appropriations to handle before it adjourns.

Two bills passed by the Senate and sent to the White House yesterday raised to $71,136,000,000 total funds approved thus far to run the government in the current fiscal year.

The previous high mark outside of a war year was $61,000,000,000 in fiscal 1951 which ended last June 30. The all-time record was set in fiscal 1943 in the midst of World War Two. Appropriations that year totaled $147,000,000,000.

The remaining four bills would add about $14,000,000,000 to the total already approved in the nine measures set to President Truman.

This would take appropriations for fiscal 1952 up to the $85,000,000,000 mark.

One of the bills sent to the White House yesterday—the $56,937,808,030 military money measure—was the largest peacetime appropriations bill ever passed by Congress. And there have been hints the Pentagon will be back soon after Congress meets in January with a request for a supplemental appropriation for the armed services.

The other measure approved yesterday was a $1,042,867,887 bill carrying funds for the state, commerce and justice departments and the judiciary.

Michigan In Red Over 40 Million

LANSING—(AP)—Michigan's total governmental deficit officially stood at $40,850,260 on June 30, State Controller Robert F. Steadman said today.

The figure was very close to previously-announced preliminary figures.

The state ran into the red $19,539,028 in the single fiscal year ending June 30, Steadman said. This, too was close to preliminary figures.

Thus the deficit, which stood at $21,311,231 on June 30, 1950, was nearly doubled in the last fiscal year, Steadman observed.

Month-Old Detroit Bakery Strike Ends

DETROIT—(AP)—Detroit's month-old bakery strike was settled last night.

An eight-hour negotiating session between Local 326, Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union (AFL) and the Detroit Bakery Employers Labor Council produced the settlement.

The eight major bakeries affected in the walkout will resume production Sunday and will start full deliveries Monday, A. W. Owens, secretary of the Employers Council said.

The settlement provides for a five cent hourly pay increase, retroactive to Aug. 1; a five cent hourly increase in night differential; a guarantee of 7½ hours call-in-work; and other benefits.

Father Coignard Retires After Serving 54 Years In Catholic Priesthood

Rev. Fr. Alphonse C. Coignard, 77, highly esteemed pastor of St. Joseph Catholic church of Perkins, has retired from active service in the priesthood, effective next Monday. He has purchased the A. W. Rohde home at 1421 Dakota avenue, Gladstone, where he will live in retirement.

Fr. Coignard was the oldest of eight children born to Vital Coignard and Jeanne Bulanger in the province of Normandy, France. He was born in the county seat of St. Hilaire du Harcourt Aug. 2, 1874.

The Perkins priest attended Christian Brothers school at the age of three, and when he was 10 he went to the College of Mortain where he remained six years to complete his classical studies.

Ordained In 1897

Two years of philosophy study followed at Rennes, Brittany and Paris. After four years of theological study in Paris, he sought admission into the Holy Ghost Fathers congregation and was sent to Ferndale, a novitiate of the congregation, near Philadelphia, in September, 1896. By special dispensation from the pope, Fr. Coignard then only 22½ years of age was ordained in Philadelphia on Feb. 2, 1897.

Two years after his ordination Fr. Coignard was sent to Chipewick Falls, Wis., where he served the Flambeau Indian mission. Eighteen months later, he was transferred to St. Joseph's church at Bay City to take charge of the school in that parish and to build a new church. He remained in Bay City 16½ years, during which he constructed a modern church and wiped out the parish debt.

In Perkins Since 1916

Because of illness, Fr. Coignard was transferred to the Upper Peninsula in 1916 at the request of his physician. He was assigned to Perkins and has remained there continuously.

When Fr. Coignard arrived in Perkins June 21, 1916, there was no church there, and the new pastor immediately set out to raise funds to construct the fine, brick edifice now located in that community. The cornerstone was laid Sept. 17, 1917 and the church was completed in 1922.

In 1926, Fr. Coignard was appointed diocesan director of the Society for the Propagation of Faith and has guided that program in the diocese since that time.

Man's Routine Walk Covers Many Miles

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(AP)—If he can hold out for a few more years, George R. Ross will have walked around the world—25,000 miles—just getting to and from work.

"It's two and one-half miles from my house to my job," says Ross, 75, a fireman in a boiler room for 55 years. "Using five miles a day as an average for the round trip, I figure I have walked 17,160 miles since 1939."

August Mattson Post will hold a meeting Monday at 8 p. m., at the home of Mrs. J. P. Louis, 324 Michigan Avenue, Gladstone.

Life Will Use Nahma Pictures

Will Appear Next Week In Magazine

The picture story of Nahma, Upper Michigan sawmill town saved from becoming a ghost town when it was purchased by the American Playground Device company of Anderson, Ind., will appear in Life magazine next week.

Pictures taken by Tom McAvoy, Life's staff photographer stationed at Detroit, will occupy four pages in the weekly magazine, which has a circulation of 5,200,000.

Among the scenes to be shown will be the following: aerial view of the mill, yards, shoreline and buildings in the town; the Nahma & Northern railway locomotive with main street in background; President Warren P. Miller of American Playground Device, Mrs. Miller and Charles E. Good, president of Bay de Noquet company, standing on beach and looking at sawmill in distance; the log sawing contest; presentation of the keys to the town of Nahma to President Miller at Lions club party at the clubhouse; and President Miller, talking to group of Nahma townspeople.

This will be Nahma's second appearance in Life magazine. Several years ago, the deer hunter's shindig was shown in pictures taken by Wallace Kirkland.

The violet is the state flower of Illinois, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Wisconsin.

Death Claims Mrs. Logan, 90

Funeral Rites Will Be Held Tuesday

Mrs. Martha Logan, of 517 South 15th street, widow of Nels Logan, and mother of the late Peter N. Logan, mayor of Escanaba, died at 12:45 this morning at St. Francis hospital where she was taken a week ago suffering from a fractured hip received in a fall at her home.

Mrs. Logan was 90 years old and was active up to the time of her injury.

Born March 7, 1861, in Jamtland, Sweden, she came to Escanaba August 1, 1901, and spent the balance of her life here. She was a member of Bethany Ev. Lutheran church and of the Ladies' Aid society.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home where friends may call beginning Monday afternoon. The Rev. Gustav Lund, Bethany pastor, will conduct funeral services at the funeral home chapel at 2 Tuesday afternoon.

Spalding Blind Man Receives Leader Dog

Vernon Murray, Spalding's well known and much-loved blind man, will have the guidance and friendship of Rex, the new Leader dog he has acquired with the help of the Powers-Spalding Lions club.

Murray, who has been blind since birth, left Spalding on Sept. 8 for Rochester, Mich., to take training for a Leader dog. The training course lasted four weeks during which time the trainee and his dog became acquainted and drilled together. Prior to Vernon's arrival at the Rochester Leader Dog institution, Rex had received 10 weeks of training from a skilled trainer.

Rex is valued at $1250, of which Vernon is required to pay $150. The balance is paid by Lions International.

Vernon's enrollment at the Rochester school was sponsored by the Powers-Spalding Lion club. Lions International has a special fund for the blind that is raised by contributions from the Lions clubs all over the world. In order for a blind person to receive a Leader dog he must have the best of references and his character and morals must be beyond reproach.

At the present time, Vernon is engaged as a salesman by Blind Products Sales of Lansing. All the products this company produces are made by blind employees. He sells iron board covers, floor wax, brooms and other household products in Menominee, Delta and Dickinson counties.

counts and interrogating hunters. No Geese Killed There were no reports here of geese killed yesterday. Conservation patrol boats did report sighting large flocks far out in the Bay.

If there was a drawback on opening day, it was the perfect weather. Perfect for the hunter, that is, but not for the ducks. Today's bright and balmy weather will be an equal handicap for many of the hunters who will be making their first trips.

Loss of crippled ducks was the result of dense vegetation. Hunters with dogs fared much better than those without.

Among numerous Escanaba hunters who reported full bags yesterday were Sgt. Leo Laviolette, R. L. Fredrickson, Dick Lough, Jack Labre, Pete Ethier, Lawrence Johnson, John Coan and John Hebert.

Movie Acting Is Hard Work, Says Miss Dugay

By NANCY DUCHAINE

"It's difficult. It's one of the most difficult of jobs."

That's what attractive dark-haired Yvette Dugay said at the Escanaba senior high school assembly yesterday afternoon when asked about Hollywood acting.

"Being an actress is a job requiring 24 hours a day and 365 days a year of my time," Miss Dugay added.

The 19-year-old movie actress is one of a group of celebrities who are traveling around the country in an effort to meet people for whom they are performing.

Miss Dugay told the audience that at the age of two she began her career. She has worked for 17 years and has had parts in 34 different pictures. She also has appeared on the stage and on television. One of her more recent movies is "The Great Caruso" with Mario Lanza. Six months ago the young actress signed a seven-year contract with Universal Studios.

Advice on Career
When asked to give some advice to girls looking toward a movie career, she stated that hard work and taking your career seriously are very important. Citing an example of hard work, she mentioned that when working on a picture, she arises at 5 a. m., and does not return from the studio until 8 p. m.

"Acquiring background is another important job for an aspiring actress," Yvette said. "Reading plays and books and seeing as many movies as possible are good ways to build this foundation."

Miss Dugay, when not making a picture, sees as many as five movies a week so that she may analyze them.

"The next step would be to enroll in a good dramatic school," she continued. "When you have acquired as much experience as possible, then is the time to get an agent and make your way into the movie kingdom."

"From then on, the young star contended, 'the most important word of your vocabulary should be 'humility.' Teamwork is always necessary and no one, not even a great star, is indispensable."

Miss Dugay summed up her hints by saying, "Be humble, be grateful, and work hard."

Parked Cars Hit In Two Accidents

Robert Paquette, Wells, was ticketed for failure to have his car under control this morning when Paquette's car veered out of a traffic lane on Stephenson avenue and struck a parked car owned by Tom Charland, 617 Stephenson avenue.

The accident occurred at 6:15 a. m. Police reported that Paquette apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The Paquette car also struck an electric pole after hitting Charland's car.

In a similar accident last night, a car driven by John Bink, 1019 First avenue south, struck a parked car owned by Henry DeFanti, 302 S. 16th street. The mishap occurred when Bink was making a U-turn, police reported.

Longstreet Says:

Much Publicity About Hollywood Is Unfair

Hollywood has been receiving much adverse publicity because of the divorces and antics of a very few well known personalities. Stephen Longstreet, movie writer and director, said on his visit to Escanaba yesterday with the "Movie-time U. S. A." cavalcade. Longstreet was accompanied by the 19-year-old brunette, Yvette Dugay, who played with Mario Lanza in "The Great Caruso."

"Most people in Hollywood live normal lives like folks in Escanaba, Sheboygan and Sioux City," said Longstreet. "They rear children, enjoy happy and long wedded lives, support the Community Chest and are interested in the betterment of their community. Of course, big names make news, and that is why you read so much in the newspapers when some famous movie star gets a divorce. Usually, it is the same few persons who are getting divorces over and over again."

Much Good In Hollywood

The good that Hollywood people do gets little mention in newspapers and radio, Longstreet continued. He pointed out that recently when much space was given to the antics of a mentally ill actor only three paragraphs were devoted to the fact that 86 motion picture stars departed by plane on the same day for Alaska to entertain the troops in that dismal defense outpost.

Longstreet said that the Hollywood community is raising $11,000,000 this year in the Community Chest drive. During World War II the movie industry gave $86,000,000 worth of its products—movies—to entertain the armed forces, and sent its actors with USO troupes to entertain servicemen all over the world.

There's No Hollywood

"Actually, there is no such place as Hollywood," Longstreet said. "Only recently was a postoffice named for it. The movie industry is located in several communities in Los Angeles county. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, for instance, has its studios in Culver City; Warners, in Burbank; 20th Century-Fox, in Beverly Hills; Universal Pictures, in Universal City; R-K-O, on Ventura boulevard; Columbia Pictures in the Hollywood suburb; and Paramount, on the fringe of Los Angeles."

Longstreet said that people work hard in the movies, and actors must get up as early as 5:30 a. m., when working on the studio lot. Most of them don't go out at night because they are too tired. "Hollywood has gained a bad reputation in the past because it has been the envy and goal of every romantic girl and boy," Longstreet continued. "They have regarded Hollywood as a kingdom of dreams. Naturally, many have come to Hollywood and become disappointed. There are just so many studios, so many jobs and so many people with talent in this world."

Predicts Rosy Future

Longstreet said he believed the movie industry, now celebrating its 50th anniversary, is still in its infancy, and that it will see many new great developments in the future. He added that Hollywood had become too satisfied with itself in recent years, and that the movie magnates began to feel they knew what kind of pictures the American people should see.

"Hollywood became a dream empire," Longstreet said, "but it lost touch with America. The tours we are making all over the country are an effort to get acquainted with the people and learn what they want in pictures."

Longstreet said the movie industry is showing a new trend toward getting out of the Hollywood studios to film pictures. He mentioned that he had worked this year with Cecil DeMille in the production of "The Greatest Show on Earth," while the Barnum-Ringing circus was on tour. He also will direct a documentary movie, titled "Syndicate," which will be filmed on location in New York City, St. Louis and New Orleans, to depict the operations of organized crime.

"I feel this will be a very important film," said Longstreet. "Organized crime is a great menace to us in America. It is taking much money that should be going to the Community Chest and other good causes."

Talk To Students

Miss Dugay also spoke briefly on her work and experiences in the movies. The two Hollywood personalities spoke at a Sherman Hotel luncheon and to the students at the Escanaba senior high school and other schools.

Miss Dugay said she was thrilled by the ride on the Escanaba fire truck, driven by Capt. Clarence Schrader, in a parade up Ludington street at noon. The procession was headed by the German band, directed by Chet Marrier.

Representatives of various civic organizations attended the Sherman hotel luncheon. Mayor Guy Knutson presided. Among those introduced at the meeting were J. B. Schuyler, president and general manager of Delft Theatres, Inc., and Kenneth Vohs, Escanaba manager.

Food Problem Is Discussed

Relation To World Ills Told By Cain

The chief problem of the undeveloped, impoverished countries of the world is not one of more rehabilitation but of the construction of an industrial economy that will raise the living standards of the people, Prof. Stanley A. Cain said in a lecture sponsored by the University of Michigan extension service at the Escanaba junior high school last evening.

Cain lauded the Marshall plan because he viewed it as an effective program for building up the economies of Western Europe and other countries and stemming the tide of Communism.

"The most fertile field for Communism is where the people are poor and starving, oppressed by landlords and usurers, and are being pushed around by those who hold the power," Cain said. "You cannot kill an ideology with bullets. Communist propaganda about land reform gives these oppressed people new hope."

Must Build Defenses

To fight the Communist menace, America and the other United Nations must make themselves militarily strong, Cain said. We also need friends, which include Japan and Germany.

"The exigencies of modern world politics make strange bedfellows," Cain commented. "We need friends wherever we can find them to resist Communist expansion. This threat must be met first by force. If it costs $90 billion a year and will avert World War III every penny of it will be well spent."

"It's a fact that a third World War might destroy us all. We are all willing to invest our resources at a terrific rate to avoid war. But the disturbing fact is that every armaments race ends in war."

Must Help Others

Cain said there is another alternative, and it is the trump card we must play. It is the economic development of other countries.

"We can help improve the well-being of undeveloped countries," said Cain. "If we give those unfortunate people more dignity, a chance to work for self-improvement and a new hope for the future, we shall make them less susceptible to Communist propaganda."

The lack of balance between food and population is the root of the problem facing the peoples of the world, Cain said. While America has greatly increased farm production through mechanization in the past few decades, China, Africa, India and other undeveloped countries are still using primitive methods of production.

Technical Training Needed

But mechanization of agriculture in those countries is not an easy matter, Cain continued. In some instances, the land is unsuited for mechanized farming, while in others the people do not have the technical skills.

Agricultural development in those backward countries, therefore, calls for the training of the people in the use of modern production methods.

Industrial production is also linked to the problem of food, the speaker continued. The worker cannot work efficiently if he is poorly fed and in ill health. Medical and hospital services also must be expanded in these undeveloped countries, he added.

The next speaker on the series, "The United States in World Affairs," will be Dr. James I. Crump Jr., who will lecture on "The Problem of China," on Friday evening, Oct. 19.

Escanaba C-C Labor Relations Committee Receives Recognition

BOTH organized labor and industrial management have a right to feel honored by the fact that the United States Chamber of Commerce has accorded unusual recognition to the labor relations committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

Not many citizens have been really aware of the existence of the Escanaba labor relations committee. It is composed of a group of men, about half of them representing business and industry and the other half, labor. They have been holding regular monthly meetings, at which they have freely discussed the entire gamut of labor-management problems and grievances.

Other Chambers of Commerce in the nation have labor relations committees, but none of the others has given organized labor such a large voice in its affairs. As Chairman James Doran of the Escanaba committee explained in a statement to the Daily Press, the other committees are composed of business and industrial leaders who talk about labor. In the Escanaba committee, representatives of labor unions talk with the representatives of management.

The about and with distinction is very significant.

The Escanaba labor relations committee was organized to prevent the development of conditions that might lead to serious labor disputes. It would not serve as a mediation board if ever a strike were called. This would be left to other agencies established for this purpose, none of them connected with the Chamber of Commerce.

The labor relations council of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce is holding a conference in Washington, D. C., on Dec. 7. The story of the work of the Escanaba labor relations committee will be told by Hugh Grow, secretary of the committee, in a four-member panel discussion at this conference.

The story how labor and management get together as members of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and discuss their common problems for mutual benefit is an important one. Given wide publicity, it could attract the attention of industries who are looking for plant sites in a community where there is the barest minimum of industrial strife and where employers and employees make an earnest effort to get along with each other on a friendly, cooperative basis.

Delta County Community Chest Campaign Will Open on Monday

THE "six drives in one" Delta County Community Chest campaign will get under way on Monday, Oct. 15.

Goal of the one big money-raising drive is $20,000.

Judging from the enthusiasm that is being shown by the various committee chairmen and members, the quota will be attained with ease and dispatch.

Last year, the general public was plagued by a multiplicity of independent fund raising projects. The cause was worthy in each instance, but any activity loses its appeal when it is overdone.

After last year's series of charity drives, many citizens said: "Let's get back to the Community Chest plan." Well, here it is, folks, and the measure by which you support the 151 Red Feather drive will determine whether this is the way it is going to be year after year.

Remember, however, you are giving this year to support six organizations, not just one. What you gave last year for one particular organization in one of the independent canvasses will have to be multiplied in the Community Chest contribution.

You see, when you give to the Delta County Community Chest, you will be taking care of the financial needs of six active, worthwhile humanitarian and character building agencies: The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Salvation Army, Cod Liver Oil Fund, and Children's Aid Society.

If you are not able to give all you would like to contribute at the time the canvasser calls at your door, you may sign a pledge card and make your donation in several installment payments. If you are solicited at the place where you work, you may sign up for a payroll deduction plan.

Giving to the Community Chest will help many folks—young and old—who are being served by the six organizations. It also will give the giver that wonderful feeling that comes from helping others.

Some Rules To Avoid Hunting Accidents

WITH the grouse, rabbit and duck hunting seasons under way and deer shooting to follow on Nov. 15, conservation officials and other safety-minded organizations are issuing warnings about gun accidents.

Here is a list of safety tips issued by the conservation department:

- Do not load your gun until you have actually started to hunt.
- Stay in line with the hunting party. Do not lag behind or move ahead of the line.
- Do not hunt with the safety off.
- Use special caution loading and unloading the gun.
- Carry muzzle either up or down, pointing away from any other hunter.
- Be positive of your target.
- Never carry the gun while climbing over or through fences.
- Be positive your gun is unloaded both in the barrel and magazine before entering camp, car or home.

A—A lightning stroke is not just one big electric spark but includes many over the same path.

Junior's Visit

When your Junior plans a visit home from college far away, you are eager to receive him, for you have a lot to say. It was just about a month ago his freshman year began, and you haven't seen him since he left to be a college man. It will be a fine week-end, you think, with Junior home once more, and you give him hearty greeting as he rushes in the door.

But at once you find his visit home has got him in a whirl, and he shakes your hand, demands the car, and goes to see his girl. He reports again for dinner and he stuffs himself with food, but again he's in a hurry and he's in a party mood. For as soon as he is finished, he goes rushing to a dance, and to talk of college problems—well, you never had the chance.

Then he lies abed next morning but at last he's up and dressed, and he eats a whopping breakfast, as his mother will attest. When you try and settle down to talk, he hastens to explain, he must go and run some errands, else he'll never catch his train. So you never have your visit and you must admit defeat, for when Junior's home from college, all he does is play and eat.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Senator Taft let his hair down the other evening at an off-the-record dinner for Republican newcomers to Congress. Under a barrage of questions, he talked like a presidential candidate but couldn't be coaxed into admitting he was one.

"Senator," blurted Illinois' Congressman Tim Sheehan, "when we go to a football game on Saturday afternoon and we see the players running up and down the sidelines, we assume they are about ready to get in the game. You have been running up and down all over the country. Are you one are you not a candidate?"

"Not at the moment," grinned Taft.

"Would you be interested in a Taft-MacArthur ticket?" fired Congressman Albert Morano of Connecticut.

"No, I wouldn't, but MacArthur might be interested in a MacArthur-Taft ticket," shot back Mr. Republican.

However, the hottest party question was brought up by California's Congressman Pat Hillings, who asked: "In view of the present investigation of the national chairman of both political parties, do you think Guy Gabrielson (the GOP chairman) should resign?"

"He should be given a full opportunity to present his side of the case. Perhaps it will be proved that he didn't do anything illegal," Taft began cautiously, then added bluntly: "But, nevertheless, he will eventually have to go."

REPUBLICANS CAN'T LOAF

The Ohio senator puffed into the private dining room at Washington's Hotel 2400 an hour late, looking tired, after a long Senate session. He was taken in hand by Ohio's Congressman Bill Ayres, the host, who herded the GOP freshmen into a line to have their pictures taken individually with Taft. Somehow, a waitress also wandered into the line and had her picture taken with the senator.

The congressmen then devoured $340 worth of fruit cup, roast beef, baked potato, string beans and strawberry sundae before Taft was called upon. He spoke for 20 minutes from notes on the back of an envelope, reviewing his Ohio election campaign and comparing its issues with the 1952 campaign.

He stressed the need for hard campaigning if the Republicans are going to win the White House and Congress next year. "The reason I got as many votes as I did in Ohio," Taft declared, waving the envelope in his hand, "was because I asked so many people to vote for me."

He warned that it would be a mistake for the GOP to try to win merely by exposing Democratic corruption. Though he favored continuing these exposures, he urged steady GOP hammering at other issues, such as Communists in government, the trend toward Socialism and too much government spending.

After Taft's preliminary remarks, Congressman Ayres put Taft on the firing line and opened the off-the-record meeting to questions. He offered to screen the questions, however, by having them addressed to him first.

TAFT DUCKS MCCARTHYISM

"That's all right, Bill," Taft interrupted. "I'll answer any questions they ask."

The first to jump up was Michigan's Congressman George Meader, former case Senate investigator, whose one question took several minutes to ask.

"That's a good speech," Ayres finally blurted, cutting him off.

Thereafter the questions were short and snappy, highlighted by the political posers from Sheehan and Hillings. One significant question was whether Taft approved Senator McCarthy's smear tactics. Congressmen were especially interested in this one, since many GOP leaders and newspapers, including Life magazine, have suggested that it was time for Senator Taft to divorce himself from McCarthyism. Taft's reply was neither yes nor no.

"Nobody should make charges he cannot prove behind the cloak of congressional immunity," Taft said. "At the same time Senator McCarthy has done some good in alerting the country to the subversive influences in government."

For an hour, Taft swung at these questions, chiefly on campaign issues, how to win votes and the need for party organization.

For example, Congressman Charles Brownson of Indiana wanted to know whether the Taft-Hartley law "will be an issue in next year's campaign and do you think the law needs some amendments?"

Taft retorted that, if it becomes an issue, it "will be one for us." He claimed the Republican party can show that it helped the workingman by passing the law. This was the issue, he reminded, behind his fight for re-election in Ohio.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—The autumn, which rivals the traditional month of June in its popularity with brides, was chosen by Miss Kathryn Glavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Glavin, 520 Lake Shore Drive, for her wedding to Joseph A. Bailey of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey of Gary, Ind. The marriage ceremony was solemnized Saturday morning at Holy Name Cathedral in Chicago.

Escanaba—The Upper Peninsula does not receive the attention it deserves in the Michigan Guidebook, written by the WPA Writers Project, according to Stewart H. Holbrook, who writes a book review in the New York Herald Tribune. Holbrook visited the Upper Peninsula in 1938 to gather material for his books and magazine articles on the lumbering and mining industries.

Traffic Safety Could Be Increased If Everyone Used The Eyes Wisely

By WILLIAM ULLMAN

Many critics of mankind's traffic conduct are convinced that the human eye is not being used to the best advantage from the standpoint of traffic safety. Their point is that the sense of sight could make a larger contribution to safe walking and driving if the knowledge it transmitted to the brain were used more wisely.

Pedestrians, it seems, are the greatest offenders in this respect but motorists by no means escape criticism.

An analysis of the pedestrian's failure indicates one outstanding flaw in his thinking. It is his tendency to estimate the danger presented by an approaching automobile in terms of distance. This habit of mind, a heritage of the days when traffic moved at slower speed, was all right at one time. Traffic moves at a greater speed these days, however, and it calls for a readjustment of the thinking processes.

Think About Time

Instead of the distance yardstick in measuring the potential danger of an approaching automobile, it is suggested that the pedestrian start thinking in terms of time; in terms of seconds instead of feet. He cannot entirely divorce the two to be sure, for the time will be determined to some extent by the distance the car must travel before it reaches him. Yet to make distance the only consideration is to overlook the tremendously important fact that cars move at speeds which vary from one to sixty miles an hour.

Just how important it is for the pedestrian to think in terms of car speeds can be shown with a few simple figures. The average fast walker covers about four feet per second. If the car 200 feet away, and whose path he must cross, is moving at 20 miles an hour, the pedestrian can cover a distance of 26 feet before the vehicle comes abreast of the line upon which he is walking.

Suppose, however, the car is traveling at a rate of 30 miles an hour? In that case, the pedestrian will be able to progress only seventeen feet before the car reaches his line of passage.

The distance away of each car is precisely the same, but in point of time, the car moving at 30 miles an hour is one-third again as close as the one proceeding at a 20-mile rate. In seconds, the first mentioned vehicle is four and one-third away as compared with the six and one-half of the slower machine.

The figures indicate quite emphatically the importance of estimating a car's speed as well as calculating the distance it must traverse.

Admittedly, this suggested task set for the pedestrian is not a simple one. It is no easy matter to determine the speed of an approaching automobile from a position almost in front of it, for the vehicle cannot be seen in its relationship to fixed objects which it passes in its forward flight. Yet by striving to make such calculations, it is believed that any person can acquire reasonable accuracy in doing so.

If pedestrians were to think in terms of time as well as distance in fixing their relationship to potential hazards, their thought processes would bear a closer kinship to those of vehicle operators. While he by no means is perfect at calculating its effect, the motorist always is instinctively aware of the factor of speed in the distance between himself and the object ahead for which he must stop or alter his course.

Motorist's Obligations

There is no implication that the responsibility is entirely the pedestrian's in the suggestion that he use his eyes to better advantage in moving safely through traffic. The motorist still has the same obligations he always has had. However, the proposal would find the two thinking more alike and that holds promise of helping an unhappy situation.

Visibility—that is, to see, and also consider, what is ahead on the road—in a great many cases is something drivers think too little about. For example, look at all these "Slow, Curve" signs. Why should we have to have them? If man or woman driving a car is watching and thinking about the road ahead, such signs should not be needed. When the road disappears, it has gone somewhere. Until the motor vehicle operator knows where it has gone he should automatically slow down.

There is another thing about visibility that is considered too infrequently by modern drivers. That is visibility over the top of hills. Modern cars will take us flying up the average hill. We let them do it never realizing we have no visibility over the crest of the grade.

There are many seemingly unimportant phases of the subject of using one's eyes while driving that motorists, for the sake of safety, should not overlook.

For example: Watching the gasoline gauge on your car is much more than a matter of personal convenience. It is a very definite contribution to safety on the highways. A car stranded on any road-way, either in the city or out on the open road, is enough of a menace to public safety to make it imperative for motorists to take every precaution to prevent such an occurrence.

Obstructing a driver's view of the road is imposing a great handicap on anyone who attempts to drive an automobile under such a MORE condition. This applies to his vision forward and toward the rear of the car as well. It is important that the person at the wheel should be able to see clearly in both directions. Otherwise, no matter how skillful a driver he may be, he cannot have complete command of the machine in an emergency.

Windshield Stickers

The driver may obstruct his own view by allowing stickers to be placed on the windshield or rear windows or by piling parcels beside him on the front seat so that he cannot see clearly to his right at an intersection. Or it may be the fault of his passengers. Persons riding in an automobile should be careful to insure their own safety as well as the driver's by making certain that they are not obstructing his view.

Safe driving in traffic on our streets and highways today calls for the undivided attention of every driver. But it demands more than that. He should be able to see at a glance what is going on in every direction. He needs this information for his own safety as well as that of everyone who rides with him, and he can get it only by his ability to use his eyes on all four sides of his car.

On reaching an intersection, a motorist needs to know instantly what is occurring on the cross street. He must know if other cars are approaching and what is their speed in relation to his own chances of clearing the intersection without a collision. If a driver signals for a turn or intends to stop or change his course in any way, the safety of the road demands that this information should be flashed instantly to other drivers. All this is quite impossible unless one's view is completely unobstructed.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

ALL MIXED UP—There is considerable difference between a ruffed grouse and a spruce hen, and it is the spruce hen (not the ruffed grouse) that is referred to as the "fool hen."

So says Carl Sawyer of Escanaba in correcting a recent statement in this column that grouse once were called "fool hens."

"The spruce hen is smaller and darker than the ruffed grouse and its meat is dark," Carl told me. "They do act foolish and often appear to be unafraid of anything. I once knocked one over with a pack sack while walking along an old railroad grade."

Everett Stebbins of Escanaba, formerly of LaBranche and a sawmill operator, corroborated Sawyer's statement.

He told of being with a man who saw four or five spruce hens in a low tree. The man took his shoe lace, fashioned a noose with it on the end of a pole, and slipped the noose over the heads of the silly birds one by one until he had taken them all.

THEY SEEM FOOLISH—Having established that spruce hens are foolish and ruffed grouse are not, we will tell you that ruffed grouse have their stupid moments, too.

One of the stupid grouse sought shelter in the yard at the Ned Buckbee home on Lake Shore drive and became a casualty of the season Wednesday noon when Buckbee's 12-year-old son, John, felled the bird with his BB gun.

Another foolish partridge was the one knocked over with a BB pellet by the nine-year-old son of the W. D. "Pete" Ladouceur of Escanaba. This occurred at the Ladouceur camp and the bird, stunned by the pellet, has become a pet rather than a meat course.

MATTER OF DISTANCE—The Rev. Fr. Edward Mihelich, pastor of St. Rita's church, Trenary, was in Escanaba the other day and revealed that he is an enthusiastic hunter with bow and arrow.

Although this is his first year of hunting with that weapon he was successful in bagging a deer in the woods east of Trenary.

Asked to estimate how far distant the deer was when his arrow found its mark, Fr. Mihelich wrinkled his forehead and considered the question before replying.

"It was about 100 feet—about the distance across the street." He was gazing across Ludington street at the moment and then said in a startled voice: "Why, it can't be that far! The street isn't that wide."

We were not sure either, and guessed Ludington street to be about 70 feet wide. A telephone call to city hall brought the answer from Olaf Pearson, administrative assistant to the city manager. Ludington street is 99 feet four inches—very close to Fr. Mihelich's estimate.

A GOOD SHOT—A letter comes to my desk today telling of last Sunday's exploits at Frank Chouinard's River View.

It was a rifle shoot, with chickens, ducks and rabbits for the winners. "Eighty yards to shoot and a windy day," writes our reporter. "About 30 shooters present with all different kinds of rifles. Then old Joe I. Perow of Escanaba comes along and gets four bulls eyes hand running and four chickens in four shots. Then old Perow was barred out and no more hunting for him. I think this is remarkable for a man of his age, 75. He sure can pull that trigger on time."

Joe I. Perow is among the best shots in the Escanaba area, and served as an officer in the Escanaba police department for many years.

He will probably remember a turkey shoot of some 20 years ago when he tied with Phil Bruce of the Escanaba police department, and in the shoot to break the tie Bruce won the turkey. Officer Bruce still rates high as a shot, too, and scores 100 rapid fire with his pistol.

TYPO GREMLIN

Mrs. O. R. B., of Fresno, writes to ask whether, in my work as a columnist, I am not often embarrassed by typographical errors.

Every writer lives in mortal terror of the next typographical error, and those of us who write syndicated columns with a large number of papers throughout the country are more vulnerable, of course than the writer who works for just one paper.

A gremlin that cut me down to size reared his ugly head when a Mid-Western newspaper flatteringly referred to me as "... Our Worm Expert."

Not long ago I came across a clever verse about typographical errors. I am sorry that the author is unknown, but I believe you will find it amusing.

The title is, "When The Slip Gets By": The typographical error is a slippery thing, and sly;

You hunt until you are dizzy, but it will somehow get by. Till the forms get off the press it is strange how still it keeps.

It shrinks into a corner and it never stirs or peeps. The typographical error, too small for human eyes,

Till the ink is on the paper, when it grows to mountain size. The boss he stares with horror, then he grabs his hair and groans;

The proofreader drops his head upon his hands and moans. The remainder of the issue may be clean as clean may be.

But that typographical error is the only thing you see.

Would you like to test your knowledge of words? If so, Frank Colby's leaflet C-6, "Word Quiz Game," will be interesting. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Mrs. Frank Colby, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, New York.

Egypt's Squeeze On Suez Jolts Britain And The West

The fate of the Western world's largest, best supplied and most strategically placed military bastion in the stormy Middle East is involved in the grave dispute between Britain and Egypt. Egypt's hasty moves to cancel a 1936 treaty that allows British troops in the Suez and the 1899 agreement under which the Sudan is jointly administered by Britain and Egypt come as a severe blow, following hard upon Britain's forced withdrawal from Iran. The Newsmag above shows strategic importance of the Suez Canal, considered the keystone of Western defense of the Mediterranean. Cairo's move to eject British troops from Suez came as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower met with U. S., French and British chiefs of staff in Paris to rush plans for a Middle East defense system with Turkey and Egypt as primary bases. Inset map shows closer view of big ditch, guarded by British troops at Port Said, Suez and Ismailia.

Singapore Considers Tightening Exchange

SINGAPORE—(AP)—The legislative council is to consider a bill aimed at tightening up control of foreign exchange in this British crown colony.

The proposed ordinance would give the foreign exchange controller wide powers to impose duties and restrictions on gold, currency, payment, securities, debts and import-export transfers and settlement of property.

The bill, if adopted in its present form, would make it impossible for anyone to freely sell shares and securities within the sterling area. It also would no longer be possible to export securities and no longer would bank accounts be kept confidential between banker and client.

Pentagon Military Would Like Control Of Atomic Weapons

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The military may be trying to persuade the administration to change its mind about a three-year-old ruling that the armed forces shouldn't have custody of atomic bombs now being mass-produced by the atomic energy commission (AEC).

The belief grew today in light of an extraordinary meeting at the Pentagon early last evening.

More Than Routine
In that session, Secretary of Defense Lovett talked at length with AEC Chairman Gordon Dean; two members of the commission, including Dr. Henry D. Smyth, the nuclear physicist who wrote the detailed report on the first nuclear bomb; and the commission's general manager, Marion W. Boyer.

Although Dean occasionally comes to the Pentagon, the full-dress atmosphere produced by the appearance of the others stamped the meeting as something more than routine. The participants refused to say what was discussed.

While there was speculation that custody of the bomb might have been a major item in the talks, it appeared probable that other matters also were considered. Particularly, there was the recent series of statements by AEC and congressional leaders about the new atomic weapon capability of the United States, statements which caused concern in the Pentagon over what officials there regarded as too-enthusiastic interpretation of such talk.

Forrestal Book Quoted
The Pentagon atomic conference came at about the time a book was being published which reported that the late James Forrestal, first secretary of defense, had recommended to President Truman in 1948 that the military be given custody of atomic bombs.

The book, "The Forrestal Diaries," said Mr. Truman decided against that because he did not want "some dashing lieutenant colonel to decide when would be the proper time to drop one (an atomic bomb)."

In what could have been a forerunner to the present situation Forrestal wrote that he told Mr. Truman:

"The conditions of readiness of these weapons was highly uncertain—that what a civilian might think was ready would be a long way from readiness for battle use."

(The atomic energy commission, under the act which created it, is composed of civilian commissioners, although military men are on its staff and a formal military liaison is maintained with the defense department.)

New Holland Plant Rushed To Produce Chemical Antibiotic

HOLLAND, Mich.—(AP)—Parke, Davis & Co. said today first production of an antibiotic by chemical means probably will get under way by the end of this year at a new plant being rushed to completion near here.

The drug firm said today the government has given it top priorities for chemical equipment and critical materials for the plant which will produce chloromycetin. It is the only antibiotic so far to be made by chemical means.

The drug has been found to be effective in the treatment of more than 30 different diseases. It is being used to combat infection among United Nations troops in Korea. It is used in front-line hospitals against typhoid, typhus and other diseases.

The plant for synthetic manufacture of chloromycetin is located a half mile north of this Dutch community. It will more than double Parke-Davis' present capacity for making chloromycetin.

Work on the plant—described as the world's first and only plant for the exclusive manufacture of an antibiotic by chemical means—has been under way about a year and a half.

The Holland plant will do the entire chemical manufacture of the antimicrobial from raw materials to finished capsules ready for prescription by physicians.

About 100 persons will be required to operate and maintain the plant. Many operations will be remotely controlled from a huge electric panel. Parke-Davis' Detroit plant where the drug is made through fermentation will continue in production.

Features of the new plant include aluminum and stainless steel kettles standing nearly three stories high; a 1,600-foot well into which chemical wastes will be pumped, and giant machines to make flake ice for cooling a chemical reaction.

D. J. Vink, 37, a graduate of University of Michigan, will be superintendent of the plant.

Perronville

Health Movies Shown
PERRONVILLE—Miss Larson, county school nurse, showed two health movies to the school children Tuesday afternoon. The movies displayed the value of vaccination and toxoid immunization. Tuesday afternoon, October 23, immunization and vaccination will be given to pre-school children and school children who are in need of protection.

Red Bureaucracy Enters Barnyards

BERLIN—(AP)—Communist-ruled East Germany, (where everybody and virtually everything is pressured to fulfill a state-prescribed production quota,) is hailing a sow these days.

She set a record by exceeding the state quota which requires that every sow produce at least 16 piglets in a year. The champ was credited with already having produced 13 litters totaling 114 in breeding so far.

She's the star of a pig farm run by one Herr Wellner near Madgeburg. All the sows seem to be working well for Wellner, who is given an accolade in the Communist press and promised an expansion of his farm with six new pig sties.

Marlene Taylor, Thomas Bisson Wed At Schaffer

SCHAFER—Gladly in pastel shades with the lighted altar candles formed the setting in Sacred Heart church at Schaffer this morning for the wedding of Miss Marlene Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Taylor, and Thomas Bisson of Escanaba, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bisson, sr., of Lynwood, California. Father Joseph Beauchene solemnized the double ring ceremony at 9 a. m. nuptial high mass.

Mrs. Roy Seymour sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" as the bride placed a bouquet on the altar of the Blessed Virgin and the bridegroom lighted a candle at the foot of St. Joseph's altar. During the offertory "Ave Maria" was sung by Mrs. Seymour. The bridal procession and recessional were played by Mrs. Blanche Seymour, organist-director.

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle to the chancel railing by her father who gave her in marriage. Her white satin gown with a fitted bodice of lace and lace peplum was fastened in back with tiny satin covered buttons. The nylon yoke formed a high neckline and the long sleeves tapered to points over the wrist. The full skirt extended into a train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a sweetheart shaped headpiece. Her only jewelry, the bridegroom's gift, was a double strand of pearls with rhinestone teardrop and earrings to match. She carried cascading white baby mums centered with a red rose corsage with white shower ribbons.

Bridal Aides

The bride's sister, Joyce Taylor, as maid of honor, wore white, her gown styled with a lace bodice with front button closing, mandarin collar and peplum and a satin skirt. An open crown satin trimmed net hat and white mitts completed her ensemble. She carried pink roses and pink and orchid baby mums. The bridesmaids, Nancy Pilon and Mrs. Francis King, wore gowns of identical style in gold color and carried Talisman roses and bronze and yellow pompons. All three attendants wore rhinestone necklaces, a gift of the bride.

Little Mary Bisson, cousin of the bridegroom, who was flower girl, wore a white colonial styled embroidered organza dress trimmed with gold rosettes. Her sweetheart shaped headpiece was gold. She carried a tiny colonial bouquet of mixed mums. The ring bearer, Danny Gordon, cousin of the bride, was dressed in a blue suit and carried the rings on a heart shaped lace over satin pillow.

The bridegroom's attendants were Melvin Taylor, brother of the bride, and Francis King.

Mrs. Taylor selected a royal blue dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Bisson wore a copper suit with brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party was served at the bride's home, large bouquets of flowers forming the table decorations. Appointments for the reception for 250 guests this afternoon at Potvin's Fireside Inn are centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped by a tiny bridal couple. Pouring are the bride's cousins, Beatrice and Marian Pilon.

For Going Away

The newlyweds following a honeymoon in the Copper Country will live at 1810 Third avenue south in Escanaba. For traveling the bride is wearing a navy blue suit with red accessories and an American Beauty corsage.

The bride attended Bark River-Harris school. Mr. Bisson is a graduate of Washington high school in Los Angeles.

Guests at the wedding included Ed St. Louis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Gordon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pilon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Zanoone of Niagara, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pilon and family of Iron Mountain, Mr. and Mrs. Ed LaFave of Munising, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Viav and children, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor, sr. and Mrs. Wallie Sharkey and son Ronnie and Mr. and Mrs. Hank Hansen of Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pilon and family of Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pilon and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bastier of Antigo; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown and Mrs. Thomas Bisson, sr. of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moberg of Wells; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dumas of Lena; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Viav and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Bisson and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Bisson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moberg, Mr. and Mrs. William Hart, Mrs. A. The organ music was played by Mrs. Hjalmer Stenberg. Miss Betty McNaughton sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Miss Donna Sundquist sang "I Love You Truly."

Chantilly Lace and Satin

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Chantilly lace redingote with Peter Pan collar and stiff peplum over a strapless slipper satin gown Her fingertip veil was French illusion and was secured by a lace and satin bonnet, with lilies of the valley. A fine cameo which came from England was her "something borrowed" and only jewelry. She carried white stock centered with an orchid.

Miss Marie Erickson, as maid of honor for her sister, wore nile green marquisette over taffeta with a yellow bonnet and she carried yellow mums. Misses LaVerne Flynn and LaVerne Sundquist, bridal aides were identical gowns of marquisette over taffeta of pastel shades and matching hats. They carried bouquets of mums. Karen Erickson, young sister of the bride, as flower girl, wore a frock of blue organza over satin styled with a Peter Pan collar and ruffled skirt. Her bonnet was pink organza. She carried American Beauty roses.

Dale Erickson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Wayne Erickson and Edward Scharinghouse of Chicago.

Reception and Dinner

The bride's mother attended the wedding in a grey crepe dress, trimmed with satin and the bridegroom's mother wore a navy sheer. Both had corsages of orchids.

The reception for 150 guests in the church parlors was followed by a wedding dinner at Tom Swift's.

The newlyweds who traveled through Lower Michigan on their honeymoon will live in Bark River.

'Table Talk' Escanaba Woman's Club Lecture Wednesday

Mrs. G. Z. de La Pointe of Elmhurst, Ill., will present her entertaining and instructive demonstration-lecture, "Table Talk", at the October meeting of the Escanaba Woman's club next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in Westminster Hall of the First Presbyterian church.

With her lecture she will have a table display of dinner plates including representative pieces from the "all-time greats" and leading present day manufacturers. Acquired by Dr. and Mrs. de La Pointe in their extensive travels the collection shows beautiful design and color of the costly down to the "dime store" pieces.

The speaker will give a brief historical background of dinnerware manufacture up to the present time, providing a basic understanding of styles, shapes and designs. She will follow this with creation of actual place settings in which she uses sample pieces from her collection augmented by a large assortment of table cloths and place mats. As the final feature of the lecture she will take sample plates submitted by members of her audience and show how the basic techniques may be applied to provide more effective settings for luncheons, dinners, parties and everyday use.

Each club member and guest is urged to have a dinner plate for the third portion of the lecture.

Mrs. E. G. Harkins, jr., is chairman of the afternoon and her committee includes Mesdames John Groop, A. D. LaBranche, John L. Greene, H. J. Huckenpahler, Emerson B. Harvey, Harry Ehnerd, Arnold Nelson, Clarence Anderson, Stanley Beggs, Paul Wohlen and Howard Timms.

Fall Schools Of Religion Will Open Next Week

Fall Schools of Religion will be conducted for the adult laity of Escanaba and the surrounding area, with the first session beginning next week. These classes are similar to the classes conducted last spring in Escanaba and Gladstone.

The school is sponsored by the Escanaba Deanery of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, under the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine section, with Mrs. John Anthony as chairman. These schools will be conducted in every deanery in the diocese with priests appointed to the faculty by his Excellency, Thomas L. Noa, Bishop of Marquette.

Instructors Here

The instructors appointed for Escanaba will be Rev. Ronald J. Bassett of Garden, who will begin his school Monday, Oct. 15 at 8 at the Bonifas Auditorium. Father Bassett conducted the spring school classes at the Bonifas Auditorium and his re-appointment will be welcomed by all who attended at that time.

Father James McNaughton of St. Anne's parish has been appointed to conduct a second series of classes for Escanaba at St. Thomas Apostolic church Friday evening at Escanaba country club. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. The committee comprises Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Shepeck, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrew, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Ward jr., and Dr. and Mrs. Vernon K. Johnson.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES by Sue Donimus

FIGHTING the battle of the bulge, a modern girl's version of the old saying is: Eat, drink and be wary! And the modern woman's answer to another kind of space problem is Modernfold Doors At Erickson Millwork you can see samples of these amazing doors that are fashioned from lovely colors of plastic fabric over a steel framework. Now you see 'em, now you don't, as they slide together like an accordion and provide you with needed wall space. Modernfolds are the perfect answer for a closet door, to replace any old style swinging door, or to convert one large room into two smaller ones.

THE other planets may not be so able to support life—but it isn't exactly easy to stretch your Christmas shopping money, you'll think the world of my suggestions from the Office Service Company. Their October special on Rytec stationery is universally approved! Smooth, white, paneled in-formals with name imprinted—$1 for box of 50; heavy, white post cards with name imprinted across the top, and a colorful border—100 for just $1.00; deckle edge vellum stationery, name imprinted, blue lined envelopes—a big supply for just $1.50. Order these Rytec October specials now from OSCO. And your gift recipients will thank you for getting personal!

W. C. FIELDS said to use as his epitaph: "This is too deep for me!" Feeling very much alive, those were the very words I used as I pondered the wonders of the new Time-O-Graf at Blomstrom and Petersen, jewelers. By slipping a watch on to this delicate mechanism they can adjust the watch in a few seconds instead of watching it for over a week or more. If you've some time on your hands, and a watch on your arm that needs adjusting, stop in at Blomstrom and Petersen. Still the same reasonable repair rates in spite of all the new fangled equipment! They'll get to the bottom of things in quality repair work!

WHERE there's smoke, there's a bride cooking! And where there's a bride cooking I hope someone has thoughtfully provided some of the lovely new Franciscan dinnerware from Eden's Gift Shop. Right now they have a wonderfully big stock of two charming patterns. You'll like the clean, crisp look of Ivy with its green leaves circling the plate; and the colorful Desert Rose with little rose buds forming the handles on special pieces. For only $13.90 you may have a starter set that's worth $18! Graceful tea sets, coffee servers and salad bowls to choose from, too. Better see what's cooking at Eden's!

Six men on a raft. And who do you think they be? They're the members of the "Kon-Tiki" expedition. Ever since I read about them in the Reader's Digest I've been watching for this movie. And now it's here! The exciting story of six men who share dangers and thrills on a balsa log raft to prove a scientific theory. Co-featured with "Kon-Tiki" is a technical film by Walt Disney. Not a cartoon—this is a true picture of bird and insect life. "Nature's Half Acre". The Delft Theater Sun. and Mon. is a real joy for the whole family! They'll treat you right!

WE were sitting in the duck blind and he yelled, "Duck", and I did. How should I know he was giving me the bird? Anyway, four hours later, in spite of a drizzling rain the whole time, I was still snug and dry in my waterproof clothes. Have to give lots of credit to the NuWay Cleaners, because they suggested this wonderful Cravenette treatment. Cravenette is the water proof method to hunt for—perfect for all sport clothes, coats, men's hats, and especially fine for the kid's snow suits. Don't be blind to the fact that the NuWay to waterproof is Cravenette!

IT'S curtains for Wards! A big shipment of lovely new glass curtains to help you put a bang-up finish on your Fall cleaning. Especially adaptable are the ruffled marquisettes that come in two widths; the narrower ones are 45" each panel and cost $2.98 a pair; wide ones are 86" a panel and are just $5.98. Plain rayon panels at a tiny $1 price tag—in pastels and white. Ruffled organza in colors and white. $3.98. Price and texture—sheer delight!

GIVE your husband enuf rope and he'll want to skip! But you can give him a break by giving Ted the breaks! Ted's Fix-it Shop can handle all broken furniture, electrical equipment, toys and other gadgets. With his skill and the proper equipment for making repairs, Ted can handle those jobs much better than even a willing husband at home. Minimum charges so you'll break even!

AFTER a particularly dull party the pretty young thing remarked, "It was a fate worse than death!" To add sparkle to your tea parties, try using the clever cottage tea sets from the Photo Art Shop. This English ware is always a conversation piece with the tea pot and cream and sugar set in the shape of cottages with brown thatched roofs. Cookie jars and other pieces available, too. A new party line at the Photo Art!

Vet Counselor Issues Report

1500 Cases Handled During Past Year

Contacts with veterans by the Veterans Counseling Center at Manistique numbered 1294 in the past year according to a report for the fiscal year submitted by Donald E. Messier, veterans counselor. This figure includes Spanish American War veterans, veterans of World Wars I and II and Korean war veterans.

Of these veterans, 24 were assisted in filing for homestead exemptions, at an estimated saving of $30 for each veteran.

The center took care of the necessary details in securing hospitalization for 46 veterans in the past year. An approximate total of 966 days of hospitalization resulted from this service.

Veterans, numbering 189 were assisted in applying for out-patient medical and dental treatment. In addition to receiving the treatment, all medicines and drugs are furnished by the Veterans Administration under this plan. The estimated value of treatments and drugs amounts to $5,408.

Seventy-nine veterans and their next of kin made application to the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund. The total amount expended in the past year amounts to $1,528.44.

The center wrote sixty letters to next of kin.

Eight veterans applied through the center and were awarded total and permanent non-service connected disability pensions, ranging from $60 to $72 per month each.

Four next of kin were awarded widow's pensions ranging in amount from $42 to $130 per month each.

Three next of kin were awarded dependent parents pensions ranging in amounts from $35 to $60 per month each.

Six veterans were awarded service connected disability pensions ranging in amount from $15 to $60.

Five veterans were awarded increases in their service connected disability pensions from $15 to $30 per month.

Summarizing the activities and achievements of the center Messier states that the center was instrumental in bringing in more than $33,000 into Schoolcraft county in the past year. Seventy percent of that amount is in pensions alone. He states that there are many more veterans in Schoolcraft county and contiguous territory deserving of pensions, but who have not as yet been reached. There are over 1,500 individual case histories in the counselor's files. The Korean veterans are beginning to come in now and more work along the counseling line is foreseen in the future.

Mrs. Osborn Is Noted Authority On Indian Lore

Mrs. Stellanova Osborn, widow of the late Chase Osborn, former governor of Michigan, who is scheduled to address the Manistique Rotary club Monday noon and the Manistique Women's Club on Tuesday afternoon as one of the foremost authorities on Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, and the land that served as setting for Longfellow's "Song of Hiawatha."

According to "Who's Who," Mrs. Osborn has a special knowledge of the American Indian. Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, Longfellow's "Hiawatha," the U. S.-Canada boundary line, and the area of the Great Lakes States. According to Phi Beta Kappa associates, of which 33rd degree club of PBK she is a member, Stellanova Osborn is a poet. As an author, she has produced five works with her husband, the late Chase Salmon Osborn, Governor of Michigan, as well as writing three books of her own. The Atlantic Union committee this summer in Washington awarded her a citation of Council Woman of 1951 for her achievements as a lecturer for the Atlantic Union Resolution. Of her work as an organizer, the September Atlantic Union News says, "Michigan now holds the record for the greatest number of chartered chapters in any state in the Union. Most of the credit for Michigan's record goes to one woman: Mrs. Chase S. Osborn, AUC Council member, and Executive Director of the Michigan AUC Branch."

The Women's Club meeting will also be the occasion for the annual reception of teachers in Manistique schools. Music will be provided by the ladies' octette.

The Larkspur

Can Be Built In Easy Stages

Rooms ..... Eight
Bedrooms ..... Three
Closets ..... Nine
Cubage: House ..... 16,800 ft.
Garage ..... 4,500 ft.
Dimensions ..... 28' x 24'

The main house, which would be the part constructed first, if "Larkspur" is to be built in stages, measures 28'x24'. Overall dimensions, including the right or living room wing, the attached garage and the laundry, are 78'x29'.

An attractively designed exterior adds to the appeal of "The Larkspur"; a combination brick and shingled exterior finish, as used in the illustration, is very effective. You can, of course, use just shingles or clapboards with equally successful results.

Extensive use of blinds, both at the many windows and at the front entrance, give a homey, old-time quality to the appearance of this house. Two chimneys also add an extra decorative touch to the house exterior.

Although it is not very large in dimensions, the entry hall contains a large coat closet in the right wall. The entry hall opens on another hallway connecting with all the rooms on the first floor of the house.

Stairs to the second floor lead up from the connecting hallway, almost directly across from the entry hall. To the right, through an open archway is the living room wing. But a single story high, this wing of the house can be constructed at a later date, or can be left off completely, depending upon your preference and your need for additional space.

Measuring 24x16 feet in dimensions, the living room is an unusually well lighted, spacious and attractive room. There is a large picture window, flanked by casement windows, in the front side entrance to the 20'x13' garage.

Three bedrooms occupy most of the space on the second story of "The Larkspur". Designed to serve as the master bedroom, the left front bedroom is 15'x13'. This room has two large closets and three well placed windows—good features in any bedroom.

Measuring 11'x10', the left back bedroom contains an unusually large closet and is assured of good lighting and cross ventilation from the two windows in the back wall and the one window in the left wall.

In the right front bedroom there's also good cross ventilation, from one window in the right wall and another in the front wall, and plenty of good storage space.

The all modern bath contains both a tub and a shower. Ample lighted and ventilated by one large window in the back wall, the bathroom also contains a large clothes closet.

In the full cement basement place the heating plant under the dining room and the laundry under the kitchen. There will be ample remaining space for a recreation room, etc.

School Officers Convene Monday

Sessions To Be Held At Yacht Club

School officers of Delta county will gather at the Yacht club Monday for their biennial meeting.

Invitations have been sent by Hagle Quarnstrom, County Superintendent of Schools, to all superintendents, school board members and members of the Delta County Area Study committee. Any other interested school patron may also attend.

A three-part program is to be held. In the afternoon at 2:30 there is to be a discussion of transportation, new legislation and administrative problems. Leading the discussion will be Doris Stack, assistant superintendent of transportation, John Haitema, another assistant superintendent, and George Gilbert.

Dinner is to be served at 6 at the Yacht club.

The evening meeting starts at 7:15. Emotional characteristics of growing children will receive attention at this session. Mr. Haitema has two films, "Problem Child" and "Angry Boy" which portray and discuss emotional characteristics which need to be understood by both teachers and school officers.

Social

Kathy's Party

Katherine Ann DeHooghe entertained a group of little friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest DeHooghe, Delta avenue, Thursday after school the occasion being her 6th birthday anniversary.

Games were played and prizes awarded the winners. A tasty birthday luncheon was served at the close. An attractively decorated cake served as a centerpiece.

"All legal business will use the full name of the company."

"The Soo Line trade-mark was created by the first passenger agent, John G. Taylor, in 1888."

Two Jailed For Illegal Hunting

Brothers Found Guilty In Justice Court

Two brothers, Art and Eldred DeMars, went to jail yesterday when they were found guilty by Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson of game violation charges.

Art was found guilty of possession of a .22 caliber rifle in game area after sundown and was committed to the county jail for 7 days when he said he was unable to pay a fine of $10 and costs of $11.20.

Eldred DeMars, found guilty of possession of a portion of a deer, was given the choice of paying a $50 fine and costs of $11.20 or serving 30 days in jail and he chose the latter.

Two .22 caliber rifles involved in the investigation are being confiscated. In addition, Eldred DeMars will be unable to obtain a license to hunt deer during regular season for the next three years.

Conservation Officers Hugh Fisher and Carl Dobowsky made the arrests.

Columbus Day Is Marked At School

Students of All Saints Parochial school 7th grade yesterday presented a program to honor Columbus on the 500th anniversary of his birthday.

James Harris personified Columbus and gave a short history of his life. Peter Weingartner read the poem, "Sail On, Sail On" by Joaquin Miller.

A group including Barbara Lemieux, Kay Bolger, James Schram, Robert Semashko and Alfred Jugo played the parts of Indians as these were the first persons seen upon reaching land. Sailors included Dirk Manson, and Donald Meilur.

All sang Happy Birthday to Columbus and singing of America brought the playlet to a close. Pupils of the sixth grade with their teacher, Sister Prudentia, were guests at the observance.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

There's another Escanaba football victory to add to that Iron Mountain series we published. For some reason it is not included in the high school records here, but it exists nevertheless. It came in 1942 by a 14-0 score. . . . Jim Hall, who played center for the Eskymos that year, showed us clippings and pictures of the game. . . . Roy Christensen and Boyd Peterson scored the two Escanaba touchdowns and Bob Pfothauer kicked the extra points. . . . The "missing" game was played in 1942 between the Marinette and Menominee tiffs. . . . The revised record in the series now stands at 21 wins for Escanaba, eight for Iron Mountain and one tie.

The Marinette Marines travel to West Allis Central for football action tonight. . . . West Allis is coached by Lynn Jordan, former Marinette mentor. . . . Marinette is one of 27 Wisconsin high schools with perfect football records. . . . In their four straight wins, the Marines have scored 72 points against six opponents. . . . We heard a rumor that the Marinette first string quarterback had been lost with a broken collar bone, but haven't seen anything in the Eagle Star about it.

Seven class B schools are entered in the U. P. cross country run at Iron Mountain this afternoon. . . . Besides Escanaba and Manistique, 1-2 finishers last year, Ironwood, Sault Ste. Marie, Ishpeming, Menominee and Iron Mountain will be competing.

The Murley, Wis. high school Memorial athletic field, nearly complete now, has cost a total of $76,211 thus far, the school board reported this week. . . . Escanaba Axel Anderson took over at right end for Marquette Northern against Ferris and turned in a fine performance in last weekend's 7-7 tie. . . . John Beaumier was used on both offense and defense at fullback. . . . And Captain Jack Schils, left halfback, scored the lone Wildcat touchdown.

Big Tests Come Today In Collegiate Football Clashes Across Nation

NEW YORK — (AP)—Texas not only hopes to whip Oklahoma's football team in one of today's better games but also has hopes of licking its Cotton bowl jinx.

No matter how good the Texans have been in recent years, they always have trouble in the Cotton bowl. A year ago their only defeat was by Oklahoma, 14 to 13, in the Cotton bowl. Then came Jan. 1 and the big Dallas bowl again worked its jinx: Tennessee 20 Texas 14.

This time Texas goes into the fray with a team that has yielded only four touchdowns while piling up 10 in scoring three triumphs. Talent-rich Oklahoma is hampered by injuries.

Vanderbilt Grid Coach Reportedly Ready To Resign

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — Bill Edwards says it is up to Chancellor Harvie Branscomb whether he keeps or quits his post as football coach and athletic director at Vanderbilt university.

It was reported yesterday that Edwards was giving up his job at the end of this season and would announce his resignation today.

But last night, sports editor Raymond Johnson of the Nashville Tennessean said in a by-line story that Edwards would not quit and that Edwards had told him "it will be up to the chancellor after I discuss my position with him."

Johnson said that Edwards had an attractive business offer that would pay him considerably more money than his Vanderbilt job pays.

Edwards came to Vanderbilt in 1949, succeeding Red Snaders who went to UCLA. Edwards' teams have won 14 and lost 10, including a 22-20 upset win over Alabama, a 24-14 loss to Auburn and a 22-7 win over Middle Tennessee State this year.

The highest scoring game in the history of the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas on New Year's Day was Texas win over Mississippi, 40-27, in 1916.

Manistique Falls 25 To 0 Before Aroused Soo Squad

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Emeralds went down to a sad 25 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Soo Blue Devils at the stadium here last night.

Using over and over again a strategy that seemed to follow a set pattern, the Blue Devils managed to score a touchdown each quarter. In three successive quarters, Soo managed with steady, but far from spectacular drives, to get about to Manistique's thirty yard line and then, with a double reverse play, wide around night end, score standing up.

'Stique Starts Well
Soo kicked to Manistique to begin the game and Manistique returned in impressive style. Aided by good blocking, Bob McNamara and Ray Cummings, advanced the ball for two first downs. Then the good work came to nought by a series of plays that netted only losses and the team was forced to punt.

The Soo taking over gained steadily by rushing, scoring two first downs in this method. Then a long pass, Bob Mason to Lem McCullough, brought the ball to within thirty yards of the goal. On the next play Charlie Roberts raced over the goal line. Trial for extra point was ruled good.

Many Penalties
The second quarter was marred by penalties, four for 15 yards being called in the period. The yardage loss hit Manistique heavily. Soo managed to gain get within scoring distance and Roberts again, on a double reverse play ran around right end for another touchdown.

Manistique seriously threatened to score in the third period making three first downs, but the effort bogged down again, in a series of long passes that failed to click. Soo took over, but failed to make downs. McNamara received the Soo punt and on the most spectacular play of the evening, raced thirty yards before being

Crystal Falls Will Meet St. Joe Here Tonight

The St. Joe Trojans will have revenge in mind tonight.

Coach Tom St. Germain's griders will face the Crystal Falls Trojans at Memorial field at 8 p. m. and they'll be out to reverse a 26-25 defeat suffered to last season's high-ranking Crystal Falls club. Crystal Falls won all but one of its games last year.

This season the story is different. Crystal Falls broke into the win column last weekend for the first time, defeating Lake Linden 25-7. The visiting Trojans are regarded as a potentially dangerous crew, big but green. The club lost its season opener to Norway by a 25-6 score.

Three St. Joe regulars are on the injured list. Jim Cashion, left guard, suffered a slight concussion last week against Norway and will be held from action. He spent several days in the hospital under observation and was absent from school the early part of the week.

Tom Gasman, defensive guard, has a bruised upper lip and nose that will prevent him from playing. John Martinac, full back, is a question mark. Troubled with charleyhorses all season, Martinac did not see action against Norway last Saturday night. He may not be ready to go by tonight.

Crystal Falls is expected to keep a sharp eye on left halfback Pete Kutches. St. Joe flash who has run wild in his last two starts. Kutches had a hand in all four of St. Joe's touchdowns in the Norway hair-raiser, running for two and passing to End Bob Sendenburgh for the other two.

Starters
Along with Kutches in the Trojan backfield will be Jim Gravelle at right half, Bill Baker at quarterback and Dan Marsick at full. Bill Maycunich and Sendenburgh will be at ends, John Jungles and Bob Pepin at tackles, Bob Bergeon and Harlon Pepin at guards, and Tom Brien at center. Officials for the game will be Dick Schram and Brendon Williams of Escanaba and Leo Brunelle of Bark River.

Crystal Falls will start the same griders that scored in every quarter to beat Lake Linden. Piper and Aberly will be at the flanks, Nyholm and Lavernois, tackles; D. Sundquist and B. Sundquist, guards; Hagglund, center. The Trojan backfield will have speedy Johnny Leppiaho at quarterback, Hagstrom and Beigo running from the halves and Pete Ahbarello operating from the fullback slot.

TWILIGHT OF A GREAT CAREER — The lengthening shadows at home plate symbolize the dusk of a magnificent career, that of Joe DiMaggio, who joined the Yankees in 1936. DiMaggio has been with the New York Americans ever since, except for three years spent in the Army. Still an impressive figure at bat and in center field at 36, this could be DiMaggio's last World Series. It is his 10th, which ties Babe Ruth's record. The catcher is Wes Westrum of the Giants, the umpire, Joe Paparella. (NEA Photo)

Ohio State Is Favored Today Over Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. — (AP) — Ohio State, tabbed the team to beat for the Big Ten football crown, will open its conference challenge against Wisconsin today before 51,000 fans.

The Badgers, who started their campaign a week ago by absorbing a 14-10 loss at Illinois, enter the important clash a six-point underdog.

Prior to the Illini loss, Wisconsin trounced Marquette 22-6. Ohio State in two non-league starts defeated Southern Methodist 7-0 and lost 24-20 to Michigan State last week.

Wisconsin will use a makeshift lineup necessitated by the injury loss of Roy Burks, left halfback.

Rollie Strehlow will be shifted from right half to fill the vacancy, and probably sophomore Roger Dornburg will take Strehlow's slot. Quarterback Johnny Coatta, last year's No. 1 Big Ten passer, and fullback Jim Hammond complete the backfield.

All-America halfback Vic Janowicz hurls the Buckeyes' veteran backfield.

The next three plays resulted in lost ground. Soo, taking to the air brought the ball to the five yard line and Nelson scored two minutes before the third quarter ended. Point after touchdown failed.

Much Ragged Playing
The fourth period was ragged and poorly played by both teams, featured by reckless passing. Soo, aided by a fifteen yard penalty on Manistique and a pass that brought the ball to one half a yard of the goal, scored its final touchdown with but three minutes left to play.

Both Soo and the Manistique high school bands gave marching demonstrations at the half. At this time, also, Miss Betty Peterson, named by the high school students as "Miss Varsity, 1951" was crowned queen. Keith Jenkins, a member of the Emerald team, did the honors.

A capacity crowd witnessed the game.

Wolverines At Iowa City Next

Play First Contest There In 14 Years

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Michigan makes its first appearance at Iowa City next week (Oct. 20) in 14 years before a Homecoming crowd of 52,000 spectators.

The 1937 Wolverines pulled that one out of the fire 7-6, before a Dad's Day crowd of 18,000 as Fred Trosko, diminutive halfback and Tex Stanton, fullback, cooperated to out-score Iowa's Nile Kinnick by a single point.

Trosko and Stanton wound up a first quarter drive by scoring and little Freddie kicked the point. Kinnick came back with a 74-yard kickoff return to out-score the entire Michigan team.

In 1939 Michigan, under Fritz Crisler, won 27-7. In 1941 the count was 6-0 for the Wolverines and again in 1941 it was a 26-14 win for Michigan. The last encounter at Ann Arbor, a stubbornly fought contest, found Michigan finally winning by a 14-7 count.

In all the Wolverines have won 10, lost 2 and tied one, scoring a total of 275 points to 8 for the Hawkeyes. Greatest margin was counted by Fielding M. Yost's second "Point-a-Minute" team that rolled up 107 points to 0.

Harness Race Crowd Sets Betting Record

DETROIT — (AP) — A crowd of 9,386 fans set a Michigan harness racing bet mark at the Grand Circuit meeting here last night, as Good Time won both dashes of the $10,000 Wolverine race.

The fans pushed $410,195 through the windows at the Detroit race track, where the circuit concludes a one-week meeting tonight. The event closes the racing season in Michigan.

Good Time, the fastest standard bred in harness racing history, won the first heat in 2:02, and paid $2.40. Time for the second heat was 2:01.6, with a winning ticket paying $2.20.

The old betting record was $351,000, set at the same track Sept. 15.

Michigan State's Jayvees Win 20-7 Over Wolverines

EAST LANSING — (AP)—Talent recruited from the State's high schools gave the Michigan State Jayvees a 20-7 football win over Michigan here yesterday.

Freshmen and sophomores performing for the two schools will be the mainstays of the teams during the 1952 and 1953 Big Ten seasons.

Bernie Raterink, left half from Zeeland, got away for a 90-yard touchdown run in the most sensational play of the game.

Bert Zagers, the Cadillac back, went 37 yards for another MSC score and a pass interception by Art Ingram, safetyman from Flint, set up the other Spartan marker with John Matsook of Detroit going over.

End Ed Mickey carried a pass from quarterback Mark Scarr 15 yards for the only Michigan score.

Packers Entertain Eagles In Sunday Afternoon Clash

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The Philadelphia Eagles made their first National Football League appearance here since 1940 when they tangled with the Green Bay Packers at City Stadium Sunday afternoon.

Bert Bell, present commissioner of the NFL, was coach of the Eagles in 1940 and his big gun was little Davey O'Brien whose passing feats are now legendary. O'Brien threw 50-odd passes at the Packers but the Eagles lost, 27-20.

The Eagles, who scored impressive victories over the Chicago Cardinals and San Francisco Forty Niners with liberal use of the forward pass, are expected to join with the Packers in literally ing the air with footballs. Two touchdown passes from Adrian Burk to Clyde Scott produced the 21-14 win over the Forty Niners.

Expect Air Attack
The Packers who hurled 38 passes against the Bears and 24 against Pittsburgh are expected to throw a lot, with Bob Thomas and Tobin Rote pitching and a host of backs and ends receiving. Heading the catchers are Bob Mann, the sharp-cutting left end, swift end-back Ray Peltry, back Billy Grimes and end Abner Wimberly.

As a sidelight to Sunday's duel, the Eagles' great Steve Van Buren, the league's ground-gaining champion, will battle Tony Canadeo, the league's No. 2 ground-gainer. Van Buren and Canadeo have had a neck and neck battle through the last three years, with Steve taking the lead behind a championship line.

The Eagles, with two victories and no defeats, will be favored seven or ten points. The Packers have a 1-1 record, losing to the Chicago Bears and beating Pittsburgh.

Could Tie For First
The Packers can go into a possible tie for first place if they knock off the undefeated Eagles and the Detroit Lions are losing to the Los Angeles Rams in Detroit Sunday. Detroit has 2-0 and Los Angeles 1-1.

A crowd of more than 20,000 fans is expected for the important conflict. The Packers play the tough Rams in Milwaukee a week from Sunday, while the Eagles invade New York to meet the Giants.

Michigan State Will Travel To Penn Next Week

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's football Spartans take to the road for the third time in five weeks, Saturday, Oct. 20, to face Penn State at State College, Pa.

A sellout crowd of upwards of 30,000 is assured for the traditional battle between the inter-sectional rivals.

Penn State, a spirited team when playing before the loyal Nittany Lion fans, rose to the heights back in 1948 to hold a favored Spartan eleven to a 14-14 tie, then dropped a 24-0 decision to Coach "Biggie" Munn's charges here in 1949, to set the stage for the '51 meeting.

The Lions, under the direction of Rip Engle, unleashed a high scoring attack in their two opening games, netting 54 points against Boston University and Villanova, while winning one and dropping one. Along the way, the Lions averaged 262 yards along the ground and 97 through the air for a nifty total offense averaging 359 yards per contest.

Powering the Penn State attack are a pair of hard running backs, Ted Shattuck and Paul Anders. Shattuck, a 200-pound left halfback, piled up 227 yards rushing in his first two games on 36 carries, to boast a neat 6.3 yard average per carry. Anders also proved he can be dangerous by driving for 150 yards on 28 carries for a 5.3 yard average. If the Spartans succeed in stopping the rushes of Shattuck and Anders, a pair of pass-pitching quarterbacks, Tony Rados and Bob Szajna, may prove troublesome.

The two teams have met six times in the past, with the Spartans winning 4, losing one, and tying one. The last Penn State win was a 13-6 decision in 1925.

Packer Greats Guest Speakers At Grid Meeting

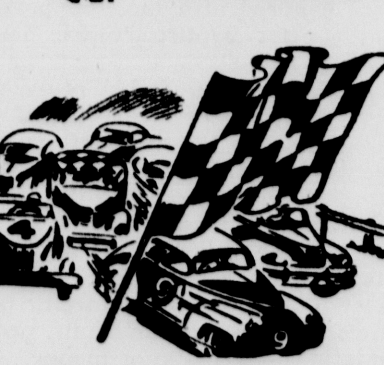

MANISTIQUE—Two Green Bay Packer football luminaries will be guest speakers at the second meeting of the Manistique Quarterback club Monday evening at 7:30 at the Manistique high school.

Ted Fritch, veteran fullback, and Ed Eker, gigantic tackle, will be the speakers. Eker is a six-foot, seven-inch giant weighing 275 pounds and serving his fourth season with the Packers. He is a graduate of John Carroll college.

Fritch was recently offered on waivers by the Green Bay club after 10 seasons of outstanding service.

Morley Fraser, Newberry high school coach, was guest speaker at the first meeting of the Quarterback club last Monday evening.

HOME

This home is unusual, and deserves your careful consideration. Just beyond the city limits on Ford River Road it is a truly suburban area, yet only minutes from the downtown business area, schools, and churches.
There is an acre of ground, with fine big trees, and the home has been designed and placed to best advantage in the beauty of the surroundings. The structure is monolithic concrete, and the design is quite modern, with large windows for this view. The interior finish is very fine; the living room is in wood paneling, and a large fireplace adds to the attraction. The kitchen is modern. There are two bedrooms with cabinet closet space, and another room easily adapted to bedroom use if desired. Heating is of the floor radiant type, with the boiler in a centrally located utility room. Garage is attached. The owners have permanently moved to the West, and desire to dispose of this property without further delay. We will be pleased to show the home by appointment, and will be pleased to discuss price concession with bona fide interested parties.

Luck Holds For

Clumsy GI Mule

SALZBURG, Austria—(AP)—In Austria's "Alpine fortress" American and French troops recently held joint maneuvers, using mules as a method of transportation in the rugged mountains of the Tyrol.

One mule became a hero of the U. S. Army. Attached to "K" company of the 350th infantry regiment, "Charlie" slipped and fell 500 feet over the edge of a ridge.

A small party of Americans and French made the hazardous descent to give "Charlie" a decent burial. They found the homely jackass unharmed, complacently munching grass with an expression that seemed to say: "Well, what kept you?"

Cereal Magnate Leaves Millions To Charity Fund

BATTLE CREEK—(P)—The will of W. K. Kellogg leaves nearly all of his estate, estimated at between $1,800,000 and $2,000,000, to the charitable W. K. Kellogg foundation trust.

The will of the breakfast food magnate, who died last Saturday at the age of 91, was filed in probate court at nearby Marshall. Hearing on the petition to admit the will was set for Nov. 2 by Judge Edmund R. Baske.

Aside from leaving some personal belongings to members of his family, Kellogg made no provision for the family in his will. He said he had provided for them through gifts made "during my lifetime."

Kellogg previously had established some 20 trusts, totalling about $3,000,000, for the benefit of his family and some old friends. Included were funds for the support and education of his children, grandchildren and some 15 great-grandchildren.

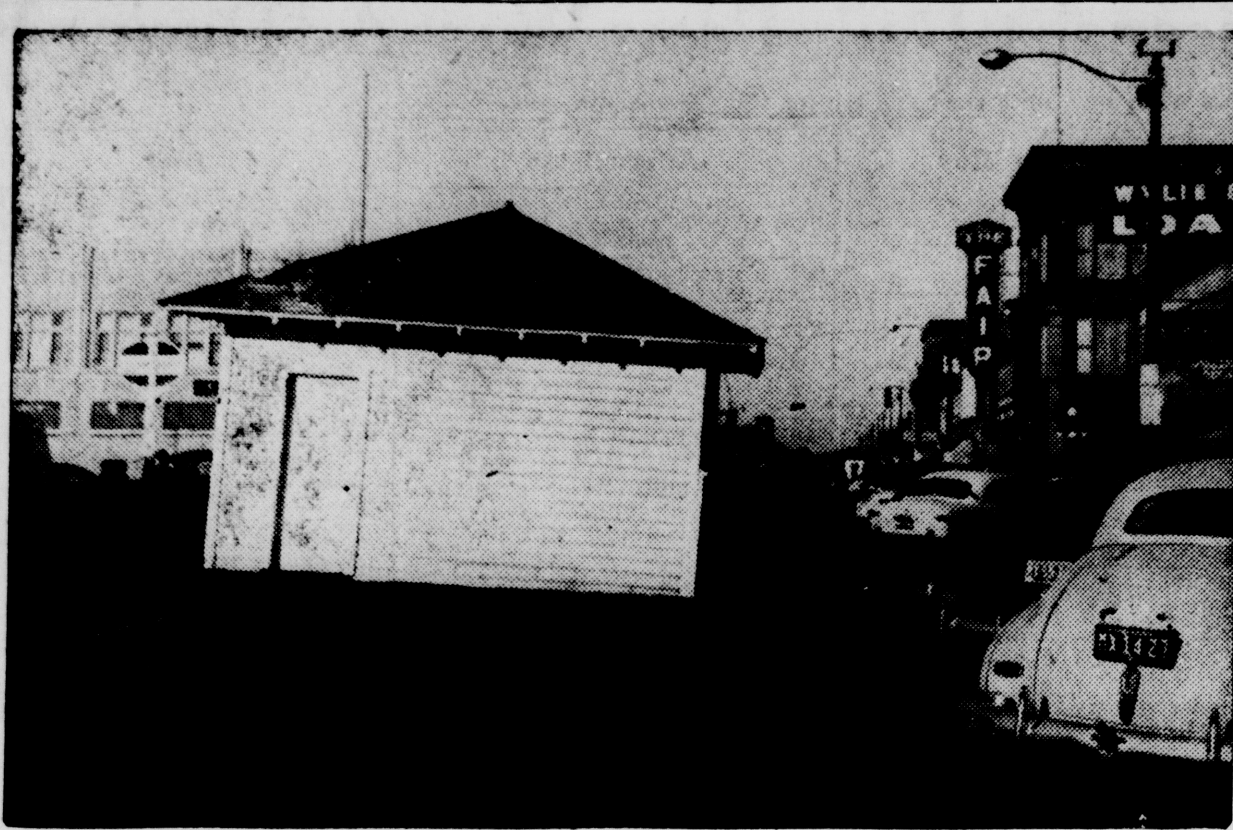

The pioneer cereal manufacturer had devoted most of his fortune to the foundation bearing his name. He set it up in 1934 and endowed it with 1,105,000 shares of Kellogg company stock.

Under its charter, the Kellogg foundation trust gives aid to health, education and other humanitarian ideals.

In 1944 Kellogg created an employees fund organization, to aid employees having 25 years service with the company or its subsidiaries. The fund, which now has some $850,000 in cash or securities, helps employees or their families who are worthy or in need.

The estate left in Kellogg's will consists of Kellogg Co. stock, government bonds, cash in several banks and other assets.

It appoints as executors with powers "officially broad to cover all contingencies that may arise," Mrs. Bessie Rogers Young, Glenn A. Cross, and Dr. Emory W. Morris, all of Battle Creek.

Head Of Ford Union Accused Of Publishing Items Bad For UAW

DETROIT — (P)—Chiefs of the CIO United Auto Workers accuse the president of their largest local union, Ford 600, of publishing material "detrimental to the interests of the UAW."

Called before the UAW's 23-man international executive board yesterday, President Carl Stellato of Local 600 demanded it give him specific instances in making the accusation.

This, Stellato reported, the board agreed to do at a later date. There was no comment forthcoming from the board, which also called Pat Rice, vice-president of the 65,000-member Ford local, before it with Stellato.

Stellato has criticized UAW President Walter Reuther and the Ford Motor Co. in recent issues of the local's newspaper, Ford Facts. He invited John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, to address a local rally earlier this year and drew sharp criticism from Reuther and the board, which boycotted the meeting and urged others to do so.

Rum No Solution To Problem Of Pigeons

SIDNEY — (P)—Newcastle's pigeons won the first round of the rum-soaked wheat battle. You may have read of the bright idea of Newcastle Parks Supervisor M. Sivert to feed the city's pigeons with wheat soaked in rum. The idea was that the pigeons would become staggery and easy to catch. The pigeons were—and still are—unpopular because they are eating up the young poppies and pansies sown for a big floral display.

The Newcastle people fed the pigeons plain wheat for two days. The third day they laced the wheat with rum. From nearby rooftops the pigeons swooped down into the park. They ate heartily. They then flew back to the rooftops in steady formations.

Now there's talk of soaking wheat in stronger rum for a week before feeding the pigeons.

REAL REASON
There is some justification for the idea that rattlesnakes do not live where white ash trees grow. White ash grows generally on a rich, moist soil in thick woods and near water, while rattlesnakes prefer, as a rule, open, dry, stony, sunny places. Thus, they are not likely to be together.

Party Bolters Are Threat In Texas Democrat Ranks

Florida "will not be identified with any such (States' Rights) movement."

Although Texas didn't go along with the Southern bolters in 1948, the volunteer Democrats frankly fear the party organization under Governor Allan Shivers, National Democratic committeeman Wright Morrow and state executive chairman R. E. Wheat might go so far as to bolt next year.

Challenge To GOP
Shivers, Morrow and Wheat received belated invitations to today's breakfast gathering but declined. They have challenged the claim of the "Volunteer Democrats" to the title "loyal Democrats."

In the GOP camp, Governor Warren of California threw down what amounted to a challenge to conservative Republicans in his state.

At Sacramento, the three-term governor who calls himself a progressive Republican, said he welcomed a reported move by party leaders opposed to his policies to field their own delegation at the June presidential primary. However, Warren made it plain that he invited rival tickets without implications as to his own plans. He was his party's 1948 candidate for vice president, and is generally expected to announce for president next year.

Trenary

TRENARY—Mrs. Robert Richmond, who returned to her home here Saturday after being a medical patient in St. Francis hospital, Escanaba, has turned in her resignation as president of the Methodist Ladies' Aid due to poor health. Mrs. Richmond suffered a heart attack two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Orava were called to Petoskey Saturday night where Mrs. Orava's sister, Mrs. Willard Quarfoot is seriously ill with a heart ailment. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fisher of Coopersville, Mich., visited at the Robert Richmond home Tuesday.

Sylvia, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Pasanen, was operated on Tuesday evening at St. Francis hospital for removal of appendix.

Mrs. Emil Latvala entered St. Lukes hospital at Marquette Wednesday evening where she will undergo surgery.

Mrs. Mike Vizona was a Marquette caller Tuesday. She received medical treatment.

New Type Watermelon Has Only Few Seeds

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—(P)—Watermelons with only two or three seeds apiece are being grown at Purdue University's experimental farm near Owensville.

W. B. Ward, extension horticulturist, reported today that commercial seedsmen will offer the "seedless watermelon" seeds next year.

The round melons weigh from eight to 10 pounds, a handy size for refrigerators, and Ward says they are of high quality. The reduction of seeds almost to the vanishing point was effected by treating the plant with a chemical compound, colchicine.

Rock

Mr. and Mrs. Al Wilson and son Steve of Lapeer, Mich., are visiting at the Andrew and Art Stevenson home.

North Delta

Home Ec Club
NORTH DELTA—The North Delta Home Ec club held its meeting at the Recreation Center on Tuesday evening, Oct. 9, with ten members present. Mrs. Edwin Peacock and Mrs. Harvey Trott gave the lesson on Christmas gifts.

Plans were made to have a Halloween party October 31 at the Recreation Center with music to be furnished by Arnold Hill. Prizes will be awarded for the most original costume and the funniest one for children. A small fine will be imposed on those who come without costume. Lunch will be served for a slight cost.

Mrs. Albert Whybrew and Mrs. Victor Niemi will attend the leadership meeting on meal planning at Rapid River in the high school gym on October 24.

The next meeting of the club will be held November 3 at the Recreation Center.

Finnish Church Services
Finnish church services will be held at the Recreation Center Sunday, Oct. 14, with the Rev. Amos Marin conducting the service. Mrs. Victor Niemi will be hostess for the lunch after the services.

Surprise Birthday Party
Mrs. Tilda Maki was pleasantly surprised on her birthday when a group of relatives and friends gathered at her house on Saturday evening. She received many lovely gifts.

Bo McMillin Rests After Operation
PHILADELPHIA—(P)—Alvin "Bo" McMillin, head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles pro football team, was reported "resting comfortably" in St. Mary's hospital here today, following an operation to correct an intestinal disorder. McMillin, 56, had been ill for three weeks. His Eagles play the Green Bay Packers Sunday, with assistant coach Wayne Millner in charge.

Airmen Demonstrate New Flash Cartridge For Night Pictures

DETROIT — (P)—The air force demonstrated a super-quick electronic flash cartridge for night picture-taking here last night for the photographic Society of America convention.

The flash and the shutterless, moving film magazine camera used in the demonstration are identical to those being used in Korea to check enemy ground movements at night.

The new technique also involves electronic transmission of the picture to the ground, where it can be sent on a wirephoto network.

A planned demonstration of the latter, with convention headquarters receiving the picture for network transmission was fouled up by a C-47 plane, which was to carry the camera and transmission equipment had engine trouble.

Cameras were transferred to a B-17 which was to have only dropped the flash cartridges. The B-17 unequipped for electronic transmission to the ground returned to Wright-Patterson Air Base at Dayton, O., with its pictures.

The cartridges explode near the ground and give sharply detailed pictures. The Detroit run was along the Detroit river to prevent any dud cartridges causing damage.
